

Advertise your products and services to planners!

...in Connecticut Planning, the Official Magazine of the Connecticut Chapter of the American Planning Association

Connecticut Planning provides an excellent opportunity to establish a presence before the planning community in Connecticut. This quarterly magazine, published in PDF format, includes feature articles on important planning trends and developments, news from National APA and area agencies, various Chapter reports, conference information, and much more. It is distributed to CCAPA's approximately 400 members, which includes municipal and regional planning officials, economic development directors, planning consultants, and others involved in the land use planning and development process. Connecticut Planning is also posted on the web, where it enjoys additional readership. Because planners are a hub in the land use management/development process, they are in an excellent position to use and recommend your company's products and services.
